Our Story

Baobab Batik is a social enterprise based in Swaziland, Southern Africa, founded by Els Hooft in 1991. She wished to follow her passion of creating batiks, as well as offering sustainable work opportunities for women. Since then Baobab Batik has evolved into a business employing 35 women full time.

It is important for us to create a nurturing work environment; a place where we can learn, develop our skills and grow as individuals. We do this through following our core values of transparency, accountability and teamwork.

We focus on LAUGHTER and LOVE; we believe every person needs a safe space to share stories, laugh together, and care for each other.

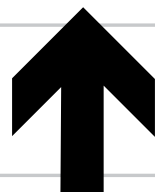

Our Vision is to be; A leading example, in Swaziland and beyond, of a social enterprise using thought leadership and innovation to empower women and develop the batik art form.

Baobab Batik employ 35 women full time

Our staff producing the products earn on an average 3.8 times the national minimum wage

In 2018 we promoted two staff members to senior management positions

37% of our annual turnover goes towards staff wages and social security payments

We offer staff interest free loans to pay school fees for their children

We offer 3 months paid maternity leave
